The relationship is the lesson.

Beth Ali is an educator with 15+ years teaching experience and a doctoral candidate at Kennesaw State University. A contributing author to The Gifts of Pain, Vol. 5, she shows teams and leaders how communication that builds trust changes everything.

SIGNATURE TOPICS

From Service to Success	Her signature veteran keynote: communication, interpersonal skills, and leadership for a successful military-to-civilian transition.
The Necessity of Authenticity	Why dropping the performance is the fastest way to earn trust in the classroom, the boardroom, and the business you are building.
Everything Is a Relationship	Communication that builds trust, influence, and results, because every problem in an organization is a relationship problem in disguise.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

> "Her talk at the Veteran Social 2026 was incredibly informative and filled with wisdom that every military veteran should take to heart. I walked away with valuable insights and a deeper appreciation for the guidance she shared with our veteran community."
